

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY

Meet the team

Anna Kamocka, consultant bariatric, upper GI and general surgeon, leads a surgical team where the majority of staff are women.

On some occasions, she has operated with an entirely female team – many of whom are pictured.

Anna and her team all share a passion for surgery and for advocating for their patients. In their spare time they enjoy a variety of activities – from yoga, to baking, Himalayan expeditions, sport and staffing the air ambulance. Their ethos as a team is about supporting diversity, being inclusive, and supporting each other to grow and develop as clinicians.

Speaking on International Women's Day 2023, Anna said:

“I'm so proud to lead such a talented, dedicated and inspiring group of women in this team. Each day, they go above and beyond the call of duty – delivering high-quality and complex care to our patients. This is all done while supporting their colleagues to reach their potential as women in the NHS.”
